Item Description FIELD

Site Data

This field of improved grassland is used as pasture. From the northern boundary the field slope gently upwards for $\frac{2}{3}$ of its length, then rises sharply to the southern boundary adjacent to the Ripley Road. Both northern and southern boundaries show signs of plough headlands. Unidentified feature 60940187 was investigated and found to be merely a depression in the lowest area of the field where water draining off the higher ground accumulates leaving somewhat boggy ground. The site of Pond 60940143 which lies in the NE corner of the field and runs over the boundary into Field 60940007 was also inspected. It is clearly shown on the 1854 OS map but no other. This pond is not extant and there is no visible evidence of it in this field.

History Summary

The field has remained unchanged from the mid 19th century until the present time, early 21st century.
