Item Description FIELD

Site Data

This field is the bank of Appleby Carr lying between the waters edge and the area's boundary wall. It varies in width between 5m and 16m. Access to the bank is through a metal gate at the SE side of the lake from Field 60940062. Working in a clockwise direction from this gate there are a number of metal electrical boxes which are part of the oxygenating system for the lake. These stand immediately adjacent to the gate and abutting the stone boundary wall. At the NW of the lake is a pond which has been dug out to prevent silt from entering the lake. At the north side there are the remains of an old boat house. At the SE side is one remaining stone gatepost which was probably the original entrance into the lake area.

History Summary

The field has remained unchanged from the mid 19th century until the present time, early 21st century.
