Item Description	RIDGE AND FURROW

Site Data

An area of ridge and furrow extending over fields 13 and 72 and running parallel with the B6165 Ripley road. It is particularly clearly visible in the field 72 but less so at the western extent. It measures approximately 9m from crest to crest with a maximum furrow depth of approximately 30cm. It is very likely medieval in origin. It covers an area of approximately 500mx 150m and is clearly visible on a number of aerial photographs. These, however, indicate that the area seems to extend to the north into field 18 and to the east into field 17 although there is no visible evidence on the ground.

History Summary

The ridge and furrow is seen on the 2007, 1973 and 1966 aerial photos.
