Item Description RIDGE AND FURROW

Site Data

An area of ridge and furrow in field 39 running east/west and measuring approximately 10m from crest to crest, most probably medieval in origin. Although clearly visible in aerial photographs there is little evidence on the ground as a result of modern ploughing. It very likely extends into the adjacent fields but this is not revealed by the photographs.

History Summary

The ridge and furrow is seen faintly on the 2007 and 1990 aerial photos and clearly visible on the 1960's aerial photos.
