Item Description	STREAM

Site Data

This stream emanated from a spring at the southern end of Field 60940024 and ran eastwards through the adjacent fields until it reached the Scriven Road. Here it passed under the road through what was known as "Smelt Bridge". On emerging on the east side of Scriven Road it passed through "Smelt Pond" and then ran through what is now "New Scriven until it met "Frog Mire" which then continued until it ran into the River Nidd. Although this stream still exists it now runs through an underground culvert and is not visible but running water can be heard at points along its length.

History Summary

A stream that exists from mid 19th century to present day, early 21st century.
